PRICE TWO CENTS

Law Co-eds Fight In Toronto Fiasco

LATE FLASH
Toronto, March 6.—The Moot Court of the University of Toronto last night acquitted Babs Flint of slander and libel against co-ed Pat Teney. The latter, on the other hand, was convicted of assault and sentenced to purchase two tickets to the Law Banquet. The whole affair, it appears, was a gag to create interest in the Moot Court.

By the Canadian University Press

Toronto, March 6.—Startling repercussions took place on the University of Toronto campus following the election of Pat Teney by the law undergraduates as "the Girl We Would Most Like to be Called to the Bar With." It all began when Babs Flint, runner up and queen of the Law Faculty for the past three years accused the winner of packing the polls with her friends, and of being "a cheap chorus girl" and "a bleached blonde."

"I have been the darling of the law school for four years now," Miss Flint stated, "and I will not give way to some insignificant freshman who is nothing but a bleached blonde. The fact that Teney won is proof enough that the poll was packed by her friends."

Everyone hoped that Miss Flint's comments would be forgotten and that peace would reign on the Varsity campus. The following morning, however, the girls met in front of the law building and the fight started. It began as a battle of words, but in a moment the girls were rolling in the snow, clawing at each other like tigresses. Blood and hair flowed freely, and the snow was soon stained, and spotted.

Engineering Scholarship Available to Air Cadets

An annual $500 scholarship—to help defray costs during the first year of the aeronautical engineering course at the University of Toronto, was announced recently by C. Douglas Taylor of Montreal, president of the Air Cadet League of Canada, in a statement issued through the league's office.

The scholarship will be known as the Sir James MacBrien scholarship in honor of the Canadian who founded the Aviation League of Canada and did much to advance the cause of private flying in the Dominion. It will be awarded for the first time this year.

Graduate air cadets of senior matriculation standing who are strongly recommended by their squadron officials will be eligible for the award. In addition to outstanding basic qualifications, the award will be made to the air cadet considered by the judges to have rendered the most valuable services to his squadron and his community.

Selection will be made by a board of three judges to be appointed by the University of Toronto, the Chief of the Air Staff and the Air Cadet League of Canada.

with tufts of hair. One attempt to part the girls was unsuccessful and the peacemaker was thanked with ugly scratches on his face.

By this time a group of students crowded around the two girls to cheer them on and no further attempt was made to stop the fight until police arrived on the scene. It took four husky cops to pull the girls apart and the two were dragged off to the first aid station screaming insults at each other.

MICHAEL BUHAY

Even then the story was not over.

In an interview with The Varsity, Babs Flint threatened that "that cheap chorus girl not heard the last of me yet. It's bad enough when that little hussy resorts to cheap, political chicanery to displace me from my rightful position as queen to the law school. But when she sneaks up behind me and resorts to low criminal assault, then she's asking for trouble."

The winning coed's retort to this latest outburst was a disdainful, "Flint should know by now that age must give way to youth." Later she added that she intended to sue Babs Flint for slander in the Moot Court which sits today. "When I walked into the Women's Union last Tuesday some of my former friends whom I've known ever since public school, ignored me," she stated. "Flint will pay for those insults."

Miss Teney originally planned to take the case to public courts but was persuaded by the president of the Law Club to abide by the decision of the Moot Court and thus keep the whole affair confined to the University campus. It was originally hoped that "the unfortunate occurrence," as he termed it, could be settled out of court but both girls are determined to have things settled openly due to the large amount of publicity the incidents have already had.

Results of the trial are awaited.

McGill Writers' Club

On Monday night at 8 o'clock in the board room of the Union there will be a regular meeting of this newly-formed club. All those who signed the membership list that has been circulated and any other students who are interested in joining should attend.

Students Nominated For SEC Position

Platforms Due Sunday Night

Six students have been nominated to run for the position of Arts and Science representative to the Students' Executive Council, G. H. Fletcher, SEC Secretary-Treasurer, announced last night.

Those who will run are Leon Davicho, Betty Ann Henley, Joy MacKay, David MacKenzie, David Morgan and Michael O'Leary. Elections will be held on Monday, March 10.

This position on the SEC will become vacant on September 1, 1947, when James A. Paterson, who was elected for the post last December, leaves the University. He will travel to England as a Rhodes Scholar.

Platforms of the candidates will appear in Monday's issues of The Daily. Candidates are advised that their platforms must be handed in to The Daily office no later than 7 p.m. Sunday evening.

Vets Society Holds Review Of Activities

The actions of the McGill Student Veterans' Society during the present term were reported last night at an informal meeting in the Union Ballroom. Alex Morris, third year Arts student, was appointed to represent the Veterans' Society on the forthcoming Jugoslav trip.

Work on the pension committee was reviewed by Ross Lemesurier, chairman of the committee. Efforts have been made, he pointed out, to make the government reconsider its

CAUC's Hold Reunion Party on March 15th

The No. 2 Canadian Army University Course which was stationed on the campus in 1943 are going to hold their first get-together of the new year on the 15th of March. The reunion is to take the form of an informal party and arrangements have been made with the Mess Committee of the C.O.T.C. to use the mess in the Gymnasium on this evening.

The unit, which was under the command of Major J. C. Hope, has held a series of reunions since the termination of the war and have welcomed increasing numbers of ex-CAUCs to their Association. It is hoped that a record turn-out will be found at the mess at 8 p.m. on the evening of Saturday the 15th for the party is being planned to equal anything that the Association has attempted in the way of entertainment. All CAUCs are to contact Ken Haring, Sandy McGregor, Ed Kelly or Gus Summerhill before this date.

Arts, Science Awards Given At Meet Today

The Arts and Science Awards, which are to be given annually as a recognition of services to the Arts and Science Undergraduate Society will be awarded at a banquet to be held in the Berkeley Hotel this evening. Bob Gill, President of the Arts and Science Undergraduate Society, in announcing the awards, stated that they are intended to supplement the Council Awards, which are necessarily limited in scope, and cannot afford recognition to all those who have been of service to their Faculty.

The following is a list of the Awards, grouped into the three general classes:

"A" Awards

Jon Ballon, Paul Betts, Otto Forchheimer, Dick Tremaine, Barbara Watson.

"B" Awards

Betty Brewer, Dave Clarke, Len Harbour, Kellie MacKinnon, Joan Mason, Beryl Reid, John Rogers.

"C" Awards

Campus Capers Present Last Show Saturday

The Capers will air their last show of the season on Saturday afternoon, March 8th, at 2.30 over Radio Station CJAD. This last broadcast will deal with the difficulties of Buzz Ferrell and his friends to find tickets for the Burton College Junior Prom.

Anyone wishing to see the broadcast which emanates from Studio A of CHLP in the Sun Life Bldg., may obtain tickets from the Tuck Shop in the Union. The audience is reminded to be in the studio before 2.15 on Saturday.

Red Pucksters to Face Varsity

Spanish Fiesta Combines Singing, Dancing, Drama

Rehearsals of "La Puebla de Las Mujeres," Spanish Comedy featured in the Spanish Fiesta of '47, are in full swing. The Fiesta is a Spanish musical and variety show which will be presented by the Club Hispanico in the Auditorium of the Montreal High School, Tuesday March 25 at 8 p.m.

The Fiesta will bring to a Montreal audience many aspects of Spanish culture, both in its homeland and in the Western Hemisphere. The cast of students from all over the world indicates the cosmopolitan character of McGill and also shows the far reaching influence of the spirit which has made Spain unique among the nations.

The International Service of the C.B.C. is going to short wave part of the program to South America, and, although some of the performers speak Spanish as their mother tongue, many English speaking students learning Spanish at McGill are in the cast. The traces of English in their accents is expected to interest rather than antagonize South American listeners.

An amusing Mexican Cafe scene opens the program, followed by a Folk song group accompanied by Eugene Jousse on the guitar.

Tom Pickup plays classical Spanish pieces by Albeniz on the piano, and then come Andre Lescot and Therese Vallee, alternately singing and accompanying each other on the piano in classical pieces. The fiery Mexican dance "El Jarabe" is performed to clicking castanets by Ana Maria Coblal accompanied by Tom Pickup.

"La Puebla de Las Mujeres" forms the second part of the program. It is the story of a young big city lawyer's adventures in a small town (Puebla) of Andalusia, Spain, and his troubles with the local beauty and gossip (Mujeres).

The lovers, Adolfo the lawyer and Juanita La Rosa, whose relationship is the subject of much gossip, are played by Bob Gale and Cicely Ambridge. This village has its "grande dame" in the person of Dona Belen, Janita's Aunt who is played by Bernice Faughnan.

The Catholic Priest, Don Julian, is played by Leon Davicho, and his deaf sister, Santiata, by Eva Dollfus. Other characters common to small towns everywhere are also found in this one. There is Pepe Lora, a crude village bully with an itch, portrayed by Jean Bolte, and a sober minded physician, Don Cecilio (Rony Chenet), who spends

Modern Dance Recital Tonight In RVC Gym

Modern interpretive dancing will be presented tonight at the annual concert of the McGill Modern Dance Club, in the RVC Gymnasium at 8.30 p.m.

The program is a varied one and behind all the dances is the endeavour to express certain thoughts and to represent people in their changing moods.

"Americans," one of the items, deals with different aspects of living on this continent. Familiar American songs have for the most part been used in these dances, and the object has been both to use the sense of the words and to comment on the period, or the particular phase of living that song represents.

"Porky's Effort" is a new departure—instead of music a poem has been used and the dance is done to its rhythm. "Futilities, Inc." is a comment on the tendency in modern society to become isolated in small-interest groups which pursue their own ideology quite divorced from other people.

The "Fugue" is a rhythm study in which each of the dancers has chosen music to represent the music of different voices in the fugue. Other items on the program are "Progress," a comment on the coming of the mechanical age, "Chorale," "Sarabande," "Tragic Odyssey," and some of the favorites from last year's concert, "Round with Variations," "Dances of Worship" and "Romantic Gesture."

Dawson SEC Needs Five Nominations

Five positions on the Dawson Students' Council are without nominations, it was learned last night. Today is the final day for accepting names.

Positions which have yet to receive nominations are those of President of Commerce, Chairman of the Canteen Committee, Chairman of the House Committee, Chairman of the Social Committee, and Representative to the Students' Athletic Council.

Among those who have already been nominated are Larry Brown and Larry Gagnon for President of the Students' Society; George Neuspel for President of the Arts and Science Society; Raymond Camus and J. K. Woodruff for President of first year Engineering; and Pauline Davies for Chairman of the Mess Committee.

All nominations must be handed in to W. D. Hilliard in the Students' Council office in the Gymnasium. They must be in before 4 p.m.

Nomination sheets for President must bear the signatures of 25 students. All other positions must have 15 signatures.

EXTENSION OF ENTITLEMENT

Student whose entitlement expires before May, 1947 who believe they qualify for extension of entitlement, but who have not been notified of such extension, should see the Student Counsellor at McGill or at Dawson College. To qualify for extension of entitlement you must:

1. Have finished one complete academic year at a University (Prep school does not count).
2. In the academic year preceding that in which entitlement expires he is in the top 25% of the year.
3. Have the recommendation of the scholarship committee.

E. C. Knowles,
Students' Counsellor

C. M. McDougall.

On the assumption that Ace Bailey and his Varsity Blues will read the local papers, Dave Campbell is keeping his plan of attack for tomorrow night's championship tilt under his hat.

Redmen's coach won't even reveal the lineup he intends to use. The big question to which Dave himself may not yet know the answer is: will Sinclair play and if so who will be dropped? There is the additional problem of where to play him.

CAMPBELL SILENT

Campbell's main reason for maintaining silence may be the result of experience for in the last McGill-Varsity outing the Toronto boys showed that they knew the McGill plays thoroughly. Ace Balley always had his men spotted where they could do the most damage. They broke up most of the McGill attacks before the could threaten Dick Ball. They even knew where to place men while McGill was putting on the pressure. Every Redman was adequately covered.

PENALTIES EXPENSIVE

It was such tactics as these plus the ability to take advantage of McGill's penalties which paid off for the Blues. To prevent a recurrence of that and defeat the coach is confiding his plans in the players only, and is sure to come up with a few changes in strategy and tactics.

Varsity Blues will move into Montreal tonight but it is very unlikely that they will practice on Forum ice before the game. Tonight there is a Senior Group game and the JAHAs playoffs will be fought there tomorrow afternoon.

TORONTO AT FULL STRENGTH
Toronto, at last reports was at full strength and will probably ice the same team that just about put the locals out of the championship race and then dropped a 3-2 decision to Queen's in the year's biggest upset.

This afternoon's practice session will be the last for the Redmen and Dave Campbell announced that it will be a "light workout" but anyone who has attended McGill practices knows that there is no such thing as a light workout.

There may be a lot of betting on the outcome of the game but there aren't many gamblers around who will give odds either way on this championship's tussle. However Dave Campbell has faith in his team and expects to see them retain the Thompson Trophy.

Minister of Finance Will Discuss Taxes

The Montreal Civics League is holding a meeting open to the public to be held tonight at 8.15 p.m. in the Montreal High School.

The Hon. D. C. Abbott, Minister of Finance will be the speaker. He will discuss the tax agreements presently being negotiated between the Provincial and Federal Governments. The final settlement of these agreements will have a direct effect on personal budgets and on national unity and since these negotiations are of Dominion-wide importance, Mr. Abbott's address should be most enlightening.

The meeting will be under the chairmanship of D. W. Heywood, President of the Montreal Civics League.

Forgetfulness?

The Charity Drive has been on the campus now for close to a full week. True, it has had strong competition from the elections and the manifold activities peculiar to universities in general. But it is appalling to hear that the sum collected to date is $300, when the goal of the Drive is $6,000.

The blame lies partly with the canvassers and partly with the rest of the student body. There have been several novelty angles thought up to keep the campaign before the students. And yet we have had this miserable sum turned in.

Perhaps students just don't care a damn about charity or charity drives. Perhaps they are right. But can you honestly search your conscience and still "forget" to donate so that some poor unfortunate can in some measure be made happier. The Drive does not seek great sums. Surely everyone can give something—a quarter, at least. The undertaking is now in its last day and every little bit helps. If you have not been approached subscribe at the booth in the Union, or find some means of communicating with those in charge. But don't just let it ride.

—A. K.

For Better Understanding

In these days of international misunderstandings and of one-sided pictures it is refreshing to note that a representative group of McGill students will be fortunate enough to visit some of the countries behind the so-called "Iron Curtain" this summer. While it is the general feeling of the campus that the 25 who will spend a month or so in Europe, should not be considered in any way as spokesmen for the Students Society or for the Students Executive Council, nevertheless we see here a great opportunity for Canadians, especially Canadian students, to see for themselves just what conditions are like in countries like Yugoslavia, remote from us not only in geographical terms but in thought and aims as well.

The tour is obviously in the nature of a good-will journey. During the period of travel, the 25 will visit England, France, Switzerland and Czechoslovakia as well as the country of their Yugoslavian hosts. There will be an opportunity to attend the festival of the World Federation of Democratic Youth in Prague. The Federation has been termed a Communist body, but now some of our fellow-students—including among their number people of all political views—will be able to see for themselves and to return with their opinions to us so that we, in turn, may judge. It is interesting to note that a Reconstruction Brigade from that enclave will help reconstruct the village of Lidice, so fresh in our memories as the typical community which suffered at the hands of the Nazi hordes.

Mainly, though, the trip will serve to introduce Canadian university students to the towns and villages and cities of Yugoslavia; they will see for themselves what destruction has been wrought and what is being done in the way of reconstruction and rehabilitation. They can see for themselves the attitude of the people toward politics and the manner of education—and the ties with Russia.

The tour is being undertaken with the highest ideals of international co-operation and understanding in mind. Those McGill students who go are being given a rare chance to interpret for us in Canada people of a foreign country. They are on the other hand carrying the name of McGill, however unofficial, to those people. We hope that the results of the trip will be most successful. For the cause of peace, they had better be.

Theme Thong of the week: Dedicated to us and our last column. "This Is The Beginning Of The End."

QUICKIES

"If you stay overnight at my house you'll have to make your own bed." "I don't mind." "Here's a hammer and saw."

Then there was the cross-eyed professor who couldn't control his pupils. This same prof was heard to say: "I guess I've lost another pupil" as his glass eye rolled down the sink.

"Do you like Kipling?" "I don't know. I've never kiplped."

"Why do some girls stutter when they want to be kissed?"

"I-I-I I don't know."

"Isn't it wonderful, I'm a mother of triplets. Is it true it only happens once in 16,879 times?" "Yes, but tell me when do you find time to do your housework?"

Pome. Contributed by an inebriated "Joe" at Dawson:

Girls who are sweet... Are Plumber's meat.

THE MORAL THE MERRIER

While making the rounds of several rural communities the travelling salesman came upon the famous farm. He knocked upon the door and was greeted by the proverbial father. "What do you want?", he asked. "A very silly question," the salesman replied, "but you looked unhappy. Has something happened to your daughter?" "No," he sobbed, "this time it's my son. He ran away from home and now he's working on the corner of Peel and St. Catherine, shining shoes." The salesman advised the farmer thusly: "Don't let it worry you. Forget your shoeshining son. Leave your daughter to me and go out into the fields and raise a crop of hay, the likes of which has never been seen." The farmer followed the advice and as a result he cornered the hay market and made a fortune, and no longer worries about his son.

The moral: Make hay while the son shines.

THE MARCH OF RHYME

There was once a bard named Danteene... Who thought that all poems should be clean... When asked why it was... He replied, "It's becuz... They are made to be heard, not obscene!"

Cecil the seer of Chicoutimi says: "As the waiter said as he served the rump roast. 'This is the end.'"

For the humour found in these columns we credit the following: Multi books and maps... varied nite-club comics (expurgated)... the radio, of course... Wes Bryant... Josh of the snooker palace... the Romjuockians... Mr. A. Knight (why for two pins, we'd... Jack Sking, our night ed. (how he suffered!)... oh yes, we have to credit Ed. Record Reviews

LITTLE PRELUDES, a recently arrived DISC album, features Erno Balogh, pianist, playing selections by Bach. There are two groups of Little Preludes (six in one, twelve in the other), three minutes and a gavotte.

This album brings to collectors a group of piano selections not normally encountered. The Little Preludes, designed as exercises on the piano, are remarkable for their simplicity and range of expression. While they are not Bach at his greatest, they demonstrate his mastery of these miniature forms.

Mr. Balogh gives a faithful performance of these selections. If, in a few instances, the playing is too objective, it is for the most part sensitive and occasionally brilliant.

SCARLATTI SONATAS, a MUSICRAFT album recently issued, explores very thoroughly for the listener the possibilities of expression latent in the harpsichord. This instrument, for many years dammed as a brittle medium of expression and recently back in public favour, is exhibited in all its glory by the brilliant young American artist, Sylvia Marlowe.

The selections, taken from the works of the greatest master of harpsichord composition, are designed to give the maximum variety of melodies, rhythms and effects. Miss Marlowe's interpretations, while tending to objectivity, show a great mastery of the instrument and fine feeling for interpretation.

Two other recent releases of interest to Montreal music lovers are the Erno Balogh recording of the Beethoven Sonata "Pathétique" and the release of some old Josef Lhevinne recordings under Disc labels.

The Balogh recording is of especial interest because it is the only recording of this popular work at present available in Canada. There have been numerous other recordings by such famous artists as Schnabel, Bacchauss, Serkin, Molselvitich, Fischer, Szreier, Bauer, and Murdoch, but these performances have either been withdrawn or are available only on import from Great Britain or the U.S.A. The Balogh performance of the "Pathétique" compares favourably with the best of the above performances.

The Josef Lhevinne "Memorial Album" contains recordings made by this great pianist, before he passed away not long ago, and never before released. The most interesting performances in the album are those of the Paganini-Liszt-Busoni "La Campanella", and a performance of the famed "Butterfly Etude" by Chopin, both of which have never been better recorded. This is a highly recommended album.

LETTER FORUM

Dear Sir:

To Mr. Ballon, my congratulations on a decisive victory. Congratulations also to the other winning candidates.

To those who supported me, my sincere thanks for their confidence. I appreciate the opportunity of contesting the position.

Yours very sincerely,
HUGH BORSMAN.

Dear Sir,—

Examinations will soon be here and "The-Daily" is about to cease publication for the college year. Before these "calamities" befall us, I think it is time someone called attention to the existence of a situation on the campus which affects relatively few but is nevertheless important, and which should be remedied.

I am referring to the matter of certain scholarships won by pre-medical students of this university before entering the Faculty of Medicine. These scholarships are awarded on the basis of academic work in the Faculty of Arts and Science and are announced in May.

If a pre-medical student is awarded one of these scholarships at the end of his third year in Arts and Science and enters Medicine the following year, he finds that he cannot make use of the scholarship, for there is a clause which states that he must be in the Faculty of Arts and Science to be able to get the financial grant.

There is a second year scholarship (Robert Bruce scholarship) which is awarded for second year work in Science. If a pre-medical student wins it and enters medicine at the end of his third year in Science, he would lose half of the scholarship.

The medical course is one of the longest and most expensive courses on the campus. It is not the purpose of this letter to try to obtain more scholarships for medical students, which are notoriously few, but it is written in the hope that it will catch the attention of some authority who could in some way arrange to compensate medical students who have won scholarships in Arts and Science, cannot make use of them while in medicine and who could well do with some additional funds.

I do not know whether the money that would otherwise have gone to these students is given to other deserving students or not. If no financial award is given to other students then this certainly is something that stands in immediate need to be remedied, for then no student is benefiting at all.

There are at least four students in the present second year medical class who have undergone the experience described above; no doubt others have and will undergo this unfortunate experience if no steps are taken to prevent a recurrence.

A Medical Student.

Dear Sir:

May I, through the medium of your column, congratulate Norma Walsley on her election as President of the Women's Union. As Vice-President, I will support her in all possible ways and will also do my best to implement my own platform.

May I also congratulate the women students as a whole not only on the very large percentage who voted in these elections, but also in the way the elections were carried out with the absence of solid bloc voting which has been deplored so much in the past.

In conclusion, I want very much to thank all those who nominated and supported me, and to say a very particular and sincere "thank you" to those who helped me in the campaign; their help and support meant a very great deal to me.

Yours sincerely,
Barbara E. Jackson, B.A. 3.

Dear Sir, %

May I, through the medium of your columns, send my very best wishes to the successful candidate for the Vice-Presidency of the Union, Mr. Scott. May I also thank all those who supported me in my campaign.

PAUL BETTS.

Cher Monsieur,

Je voudrais, avec votre permission, exprimer mes félicitations à M. Shannon. Sans doute, les résultats de l'élection ont indiqué que les étudiants de la faculté de Commerce ont désiré avoir M. Shannon comme leur président. Je désire offrir mes services à M. Shannon dans toutes les activités qu'il voudrait instituer dans la faculté de Commerce.

Votre tout dévoué,
Guillaume Jones.

P.S. Which translated means congratulations Jack Shannon.

Bill.

Dear Sir,

Through the medium of the Daily I should like to congratulate Norma Walsley as the new president of the Women's Union and wish her every success for the coming year.

I should also like to thank those who nominated and supported me in the election.

Sincerely

DRUSILLA RILEY.

Dear Sir,

I wish to thank all those who nominated and supported me in the recent campus elections. I feel that the campaign we carried on to publicize my program was very much worthwhile.

Our activity was a contribution to the current trend toward wide-open election campaigns which bring the real issues to the student body. Altho not elected, I shall continue to fight on the points raised in my platform in the course of the campaign.

Yours very truly

GIL ROSENBERG, Med. II.

Dear Sir,

I should like to thank those who nominated and supported me in the Arts and Science election and I wish Betty Brewer the very best for the coming year.

Sincerely

BEVERLY REID.

Dear Sir:

I would like, through the medium of your paper to extend my sincerest thanks to all Engineers who kindly supported me in the recent E.U.S. elections.

I would like to offer my heartfelt congratulations and wishes of success to all successful candidates, especially Ken Heron.

O'CONNOR MURRAY.

Dear Sir,

I should like to take this opportunity to thank my supporters in my campaign for the Presidency of the Arts and Science Undergraduate Society. Along with my congratulations to Dick Tremaine, I wish to assure him that he shall have my full support in the year to come.

Sincerely yours

ALEX MORRIS.

Dear Sir,

My sincere thanks to all those students who supported me in the recent election for the position of President of the McGill Union are forthcoming. To my opponents I want to express my thanks for a campaign conducted on a level worthy of this university.

I shall try to carry out my duties to the best of my abilities and make myself worthy of the trust which has been placed in me.

Sincerely,

ROBERT W. GILL.

Sir,

I would like to thank all those who so ably supported me in my recent campaign for the position of President of the McGill Union. Special thanks must go to George Woods and the members of the Commerce Undergraduate Society who gave me a very gratifying backing.

To Bob Gill, the President-elect, I wish every success in the coming year.

Yours sincerely,

JACK RONSON.

MRT's "Biography" Highly Successful

By DUSTY VINEBERG

"Biography" directed by Herbert Whittaker, which opened last night at the MRT playhouse, was an almost unconditional success, due at least in part to the fact that its cast was extremely telling in a modern vehicle, which dealt with typically problematic or psychologically entangled characters. "Biography," in our opinion, will rank for a local Oscar at the end of the Montreal theatre season. To begin with, Hans Berends' set, with its Bohemian atmosphere of romantic dinginess, was one of the most enjoyable we've seen this year. Herbert Whittaker's direction, as usual, turned in an unusually smooth production, and pulled the play through some moments which might have been doubtful.

There are people one keeps waiting, and people for whom one waits. Betty Wilson (who played Candida last summer), was sparklingly appealing from her first scene, as Marion Froide, the heroine for whom five men wait. Miss Wilson's interpretation of a singularly good and charming woman of the world was really moving, when it wasn't delectably humorous or wittily charming. John Drexler, of McGill, whom we remember in "Our Town" and "Outward Bound" matched Miss Wilson with a fine performance scene by scene in the last two acts, after a rather shaky start in the first act. As Richard Kurt, a sensitive and highly inflammable magazine editor, he was not as good in his rudely bumptious moments as he was in his quieter and genuinely convincing scenes.

Kenneth Culley playing Leander Nolan, a United States senator in embryo, turned in the most convincing piece of acting we have seen in a long time; his part was a difficult one (and somewhat unappealing, too) because of the changes of mood and personality which he was expected to convey, and which he managed admirably. Victor Charles, as Feydie, a Viennese composer, although sometimes a little laborious with his accent, surrounded Miss Wilson with a highly creditable European past, giving a sensitively sound characterization of the old-world type. Lenore Osborne, as Slade Kinnicott, suited her Christian name, an intriguingly pretty one, to a T, but Edmond Asselin, as her father Orrin Kinnicott, and Earle Fisher, as Warwick Wilson, a highly egotistical actor, were less satisfactory in spite of some good moments. Minnie, Marion Froude's maid, played by Bertha Mercovitz, was appropriately devoted and foreign. And a word about Miss Wilson's and Miss Osborne's costumes—they were stunning. As a whole, "Biography" is an excellent production. It will run until March 15th at the Guy Street Playhouse.

Players' Club Production

Your reporter interrupted a rehearsal of "Dear Ruth" to find out something about the cast of the Players' Club's major production for this year. The members all have behind them a wealth of experience in amateur dramatics which forecasts a good play for everyone to see next week in the Union Ballroom, from March 12th to 15th.

John Monk, who takes the part of an amorous ex-serviceman, is a member of the Radio Workshop and last year took the part of the minister in "Granite." Malcolm Smith, the "Rodney" of "Campus Capers", is on the technical staff of the M.R.T. and arranged the music of "Amphitryon '47". Bobby Falconer is a Thespian, which is an honorary dramatic society in the United States, to which it is a great honour to belong. Bobby has acted in the Radio Workshop and last term acted in "What's In A Name" with the Players Club.

Bobby Robertson, Bob Stairs, Edith Cannon have all done dramatics in high school. Meribeth Stobie is well known for her work here with the English Department in "Everyman".

Red Cagers to Play Doubleheader on Weekend

Clash with Varsity After Western Tilt In Season's Finale

By PERC TANNENBAUM
(Daily Staff Writer)

The McGill cage squad will be giving their last for this season when they travel westwards to meet the Western Mustangs and the Varsity Blues in week-end play. No, the Redmen did not win the intercollegiate championship—in fact, on the season's play their batting average was considerably below .500, but they did show some smart ball, and with a little aid from that best friend, but worst enemy, Lady Luck, they might have easily gathered in the laurels.

LAUDING LOU

To give credit where it is due, much of same belongs to Coach Lou Davies. Lou lost a few of his stars from last semester, boys on whom he had counted upon to bear the brunt of the Redmen's play. He nevertheless, built up a fine squad, which coordinated passing and abundant shooting to give the Western champs their biggest scare.

George Davidson recovered from his 1945-46 lapse to spark the team. His fine shooting and spirited play made him one of the most feared men in the circuit. Bobby Duford arrived from the Dawson team and was a most pleasant surprise. His great defensive play along with his frequent offensive forays added the team no little.

Another newcomer, Bud Fraser, filled in admirably in the center slot, a position which had hitherto been a source of embarrassment to McGill hoop squads. Bud's cage attributes have yet to be fully realized. . . . He should be quite a useful man next year. Captain Ken Hoyle stood out on defence, although troubled with a bad foot, while Sam Roth played well, although plagued with the antics of Fraulein Fortune.

Myer "The Kid" Bloom was used sparingly, but he is the one to watch in the next few seasons. The Kid is a most promising prospect, and great feats are expected of him. Likewise with Ken Taylor, who was an appreciated asset in the Redmen's intercollegiate games. Barring failures and the like, the entire team, save possibly Ken Hoyle, will be back next season. With the afore-mentioned as a nucleus and with the addition of a few newcomers, the Redmen look like safe bets for the 1947-48 college champs, but that remains to be seen.

At any rate, the Redmen make the "Big Swing" this week-end, and would like nothing better than to shatter the myth about Western superiority by taking the Mustangs in the London Arena on Friday, and then take the Blues into camp in Toronto on Saturday. That too, remains to be seen.

Bon Voyage!!!

McGill Defeats Georgians in Playoff Opener

By ARNIE SHUSTER

Paced by the brilliant shooting of Lou Zalkin, the McGill Intermediates overwhelmed a fighting Georgian squad by a score of 47-30. With 10 minutes to go in the last half, the score was tied 21-21. Then, our big guns got hot, and started to roll it up against a tired and disillusioned opposition.

The first half was slow and closely contested, with both squads holding the lead at various times. The Georgians, although outscored, managed to outplay and outshoot the Redbirds, and half time saw our boys leading by one slim point.

Junke opened the scoring in the final frame, which saw Zalkin change his contest from a nip and tuck battle to one sided victory. Beaugrand played smart two-way ball, likewise Murray and Lanier. Elo and Hodge too displayed winning basketball.

This was the first of two playoff games to be played by the teams. The Georgians have their last chance to overcome the 17 point deficit this Monday night at the Currie Gymn. and promise to make an interesting contest of it.

McGill (47): Hodge 6; Elo 6; Beaugrand 8; Murray 7; Lanier 6; Dikofsky 4; Doherty; Zalkin 10; Hayward.

Georgians (30): McLeod 7; Junke 6; Kiss 7; James; Naves 2; Weston 6; Bannerman 2; Wade.

All Athletics Manager Hopefuls Will Apply

Everyone on the campus knows the importance of the Athletic Managers in the McGill sports set-up. A great deal of the success of each team depends on how well he fills his position; that is, securing better conditions for his club; gaining better publicity; arranging trips (going on them too); and so on.

Before attaining the position of manager one must go through a period of apprenticeship as an assistant manager for one year in most sports and two years in others. This is done to acquaint one with the duties of a manager and the workings of the athletic setup at McGill.

All those wishing to make application for these positions may do so by filling in the "application forms" at the Athletics Office. Those students at Dawson College may secure the "application form" from Mr. E. Orlick, and after they are filled in, returning them to him. Anyone wanting further information, contact Mr. Milt Orr at WA. 2845.

Let's Beat Varsity Phys Eds Beat Comm. Cagers To Win Crown

At long last, the champs have been crowned! Climaxing a tough 70-game schedule against some top-flight opposition, the Intramural basketball team bearing the banner of first year, in the School of Physical Education, won the men of second year Mercenary School (Commerce 2a to you) by a score of 25-21. This victory for the Fizzeds ended a 3-week round-robin playoff tourney which finally narrowed the eliminations to these two squads.

The game started off quite slowly, with the boys playing it capably (pardon the pun, it was unintentional). It was typical playoff basketball, with the first half closely contested. At half time, the Phys Eds were on top by 9-8, and they managed to remain on top of the contest from here in. Commerce put on a drive in the last canto which brought them to within 1 point of the gymteachers, but the winners hung on grimly, and ended up on top by 4 points when the final buzzer sounded.

HIGH SCORERS
Top cord-swishers for the Fizzeds were Flewelling with 11 and Harle with 5 points, while Berket and Pears kept the hoop of the winners basket red hot as they notched point after point for the men-of-the-dollar.

Manager and organizer Lou Lanier expects that the champs will meet the winner of the Dawson setup sometime in the near future to decide the intra-mural cage supremacy of McGill University.

Final standings of the Round-Robin Playoff Tourney between the top 4 teams are as follows:

Phys Ed 1	W. L.
Med 3	3 0

Georgians Beat Dawson Seniors By 41-33 At 8th Athletic Night

Dawson's Senior Cagers went down to an ignominious 41-33 defeat at the hands of the Georgians last night in an exhibition game played at St. Jean as part of Dawson's eighth athletics night. There were over 1,400 at the athletics night, including about 800 girls, many of whom made the hard trip out from McGill to our St. Johns annex.

Outstanding man both for Dawson and on the floor at large was Vern Taylor who garnered 14 points. This is an invasion from Vern's usually defensive and unspectacular role, but since brother Kenny was on for only about 2 minutes, the other half of the Taylor basketball squad was forced to do the scoring honours. On the other side of the fence, the top Georgian scorers were McFall with 12 and Clint Robertson with 11 points.

BASKET BRUISERS
The game featured disorganized, and in the words of a well-known Dawson Critic "Helter-Skelter play," as the boys seemed to be under the impression that they were in the gym for the purpose of learning how to play football from Vic Obeck. Referee Scotty Brozman was forced to work hard, and attempted desperately to keep the game in hand by calling 40 personal fouls (enough to start a chicken farm).

Coach "Red" Somers of the Red and Blue Warriors brought up 4 members of Dawson's eliminated Intermediate squad to give these boys some Senior experience. Chaloner, Laing, Zunder, and Ramsey were brought up, and garnered 6 points between them.

The McGill replacements, or reinforcements, played little and Moffat, Kenny, Taylor, and Frank Kazzas left immediately after the game for London, Ont., where they will wear the red and white against Western University.

The game was quite disorganized, with Vern Taylor opening the scoring after 15 seconds of play. The lead saw-sawed back and forth for the first 10 minutes, but the visitors put on a drive and ended

First Gridiron Practice Sees Large Turnout

By BERNARD COOPER

Football started off for McGill last night at the gym, when 75-80 grid enthusiasts came out to "throw the ball around," and our brand-new mentor, Vic Obeck, happened to be around to give them some pointers. Since CIAU regulations forbid formal grid training before one month previous to the opening of the schedule, the boys were attired in gym shoes and shorts, and this training was strictly unofficial. A number of last year's grinders were present to view the proceedings and to try to learn a little where possible.

PIGSKIN PIONEERING

Proceedings started off with a little passing, and pivoting, and this was followed by blocking instruction. After some time of this, the new system of signals was outlined, and this ended the official instruction. At this time, the gym became a dangerous place for innocent bystanders as footballs of all shapes, sizes, and colours began flying in all directions with apparent abandon. This display of high powered artillery jeopardized the life of your reporter, and he left for safer pastures.

Practices, or rather football meetings, for all those interested in playing or improving their game with the long range aim of sporting a red and white sweater will be increased to twice weekly starting next week. The next meeting will probably be held on Tuesday afternoon at 8:00 p.m.; but further word will appear in Monday's Daily. Serious practice will probably begin about the first of August, with "a lot of hard work, especially long distance running." Anyone who knows that the terms snap, guard, and tackle refer to snap, inside, and middle respectively is assured of "getting something between your ears" as Vic put it at the meeting. Watch out Western!!!

WEST INDIAN PREMEDI-CAL STUDENTS

The Comptroller of Development and Welfare in the West Indies has stated that it will not be possible to provide medical scholarships for West Indian students to study medicine in the United Kingdom this year.

It is expected that there will be a few places in United Kingdom schools for West Indian students who can afford to go there at their own expense, or with the aid of such scholarships as they now hold. Such students should make application to the Colonial Secretary of the appropriate West Indian Government, stating that they wish to be considered for one of these vacancies and they should at the same time inform Dr. D. L. Thomson, Room 311, Biology Building, as recommendations will be sent by the University to the Governments concerned. These applications must reach the West Indies before the end of April.

Soviet Schools Swell Output Of Graduates

Schools of higher learning in the U.S.S.R. turned out more than 70,000 qualified graduates last year, an increase of 150 per cent. over 1945, a report in the New York Times revealed. The Times credits the source of the report to the U.S.S.R. Embassy in Washington, D.C.

The past year saw the size of the student body of the colleges and universities reach the pre-war level of 560,000 students. According to the Soviet Minister of Higher Education, Sergei Kravtsov, who prepared the report, the pre-war figure of 782 institutions of higher education has been increased by the creation of several new schools specializing in vocational courses dealing with industry, agriculture and the arts.

Despite the educational accent on scientific studies, Mr. Kravtsov states that "the number of scientific graduates with higher education still does not meet the demand of the steadily growing national economy." The flow of graduates, he feels, "must reach a total of 120,000 to 130,000 annually."

INCREASED ENROLLMENT
Last year Soviet colleges and universities admitted 195,400 new students, a figure which the report says is a considerable increase over the pre-war enrollment. A partial explanation of this may be that 1946 was the first year in which the new Five-Year Plan went into effect.

For those unable to attend college or devote a major portion of their time and effort to a full curriculum the correspondence and evening extension schools are similarly being expanded.

Among the entrants to schools of higher learning were 25,000 war veterans. Veterans are granted special priorities in admission because of their service, and those who were honor pupils while attending secondary school are admitted without taking the normally required entrance examinations. As in this country, reinstatement of veteran students who were attending school before entering service is likewise in effect.

RIFLE CLUB

There will be Target Rifle Practice tomorrow, Saturday, March 8th commencing at 2.30. This will be both a practice and an elimination shoot to determine those who will continue to practice for the match against M.I.T. on March 22nd.

The following are asked to turn out for this elimination shoot: Butler; Gooding; Cross; Campbell; Ramsey; Ladd; Smith; W.; Heron; W.; Manson-Hing; Ince; Miss M. Weins; Ewing-Chow; Risk; A. E.; Ferguson, J.; Wood. If you wish to have a crack at M.I.T. make an effort to be present.

The following are asked to be present at the Range at 7 p.m. today to represent McGill against Frontiersmen: Ramsey; Smith; Wood; L.; Campbell; Ewing-Chow; Ladd; Butler.

STUDENT LABOUR CLUB

"Quebec Labour Organizes" is the subject of an address to be given by Robert Haddow in the Union Ballroom Monday at 5 p.m.

Mr. Haddow was formerly Grand Lodge Rep. of the International Order of Machinists and helped bring tens of thousands of workers into the trade union movement in Quebec. He is now actively engaged as Canadian Director of the Fur and Leather Workers of America (C.I.O.), and is presently organizing the workers of the Boot and Shoe industry, one of the most poorly paid industries in the province.

He will thus be able to give McGill students a clear first-hand account of the difficulties now facing labour not only in Montreal but in the whole of Quebec. This will be the last open meeting of the S.L.C. for this term. All students are invited to attend and participate in the discussion.

CHESS CLUB

Today is the deadline for entering the informal tournament which is to start next week. If you have not yet entered, you may do so by leaving your name and telephone number with Mike Pearce at AT. 5136.

Due to the large number of entries and the approaching exams, the tournament will be of the knock-out variety. The list and telephone numbers of the contestants will appear on the Union notice board tomorrow. Contact your opponent and play as soon as possible.

PROGRESSIVE CONSERVATIVE CLUB

Don't forget that Sunday is the deadline for nominations for members of next year's executive. The elections are scheduled to take place at one o'clock Tuesday, March 11, in the Union Music Room. It is hoped that all members will set this date and time aside and turn out and vote at this time.

Nominations for the various posts should be turned in to Pete Newcombe at Douglas Hall on or before Sunday so that the names of the candidates for election may be published in Monday's Daily.

LABOR PROGRESSIVE PARTY CLUB

ATTENTION! All students will have an opportunity to meet Mr. Michael Buhay this afternoon at 5 p.m. in the Union Ballroom.

Mr. Buhay is the L.P.P. candidate for Cartier. The subject for discussion is "CARTIER—AN HISTORIC BY-ELECTION."

In addition the club is proud to announce that Mrs. Dorise Nielsen, women's director of the L.P.P., will be present at the meeting. She will give a short talk and will then introduce Mr. Buhay.

All students wishing to learn more about the L.P.P. are urged to attend. Mr. Buhay and Mrs. Nielsen will answer all questions concerning the program of the Party.

McGILL CCF CLUB

The annual elections of the CCF Club were held yesterday at a well-attended meeting. Jon Wolfe, overseas veteran for four years who is now in second year Honours Economics was elected president. John Sangster, another Artsman who is also a veteran, was elected vice-president. Betty Ann Henley was re-elected as Secretary-Treasurer.
